GAME NOTES:

WEEKLY HONORS: Punter Luke Green-Lauber (special teams) and linebacker Greg Nolder (defense) earned OAC Player of the Week honors after standout games against Muskingum. LGL downed five punts inside the 20, including two at the 1-yard line that led to safeties, and remains top-15 nationally in net average. Nolder had 10 tackles, a sack in the end zone, an interception at the goal line and forced a fumble while covering a punt.

RIVALRY RECORD: These two schools, separated by just 13 miles across town, create one of the most intense and entertaining rivalries in small-college sports. Otterbein has won five of the last seven matchups and the series has a dead even all-time record of 45-45-3.

TURN THE TABLES: Otterbein has been even in turnover margin the past five games after a frustrating minus-8 over the initial two weeks. The Crusaders currently rank 242 of 245 schools nationally in the category, having thrown 16 interceptions and losing another seven fumbles. The Cardinals are plus-6 in turnovers against Capital under Tim Doup.

TOUCHE' TUCHOW: Senior inside linebacker and team captain Ryan Tuchow had a game and season-high 11 tackles last week, making most of his impact as the game wore on. He has 176 stops for his career and a chance to go over the 200 plateau in these final weeks.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN: You never know what might occur in this rivalry. Capital benefited from an illegal-batting call against Otterbein back in 2016, turning a 14-point swing as the Crusaders ultimately won 42-41. The Cards picked off a late pass as Capital was driving in 2017, escaping Bexley with a 49-42 triumph. Otterbein had 1st and Goal at the 2-yard line last year before a dissapointing finish, capped by a fumble in the closing seconds as time expired.

COACH DOUP COMMENTS:

On getting into the win column last week:

"I was finally in a good mood driving home. More importantly, it was great for our guys and we couldn't have been happier to see them hooting and hollering afterward. They needed that after everything we went through the first half of the season. We could have felt bad about ourselves, but they have done an amazing job keeping with the process and staying positive. You won't ever see us quit."

On the craziness that always seems to encompass the Otterbein/Capital game:

"You try to approach it like any other game despite all the wild and wacky things that typically happen. Something fluky on the field, a weird call, an odd bounce or deflection... it always delivers something. It's just a phenomenon that is unknown, where you find yourself looking around asking what just happened."

On the rise of sophomore linebacker Greg Nolder:

"We moved Greg inside last week and he played one whale of a game in that box. He still has a lot of learning to do along with these other guys rotating in on the defensive line. They keep getting better every week and continue performing. It's sometimes odd to look out there and see how young we look, but it's also promising. They don't seem starry-eyed."

On his favorite rivalries in sports:

"I am a big wrestling guy, so I enjoy watching Ohio State take on Penn State or Iowa, because it gives you top-tier guys going at it. It's 1 on 1, in the middle of the mat, with nobody else to help you. We talk about football all the time, but I love seeing that dogfight on a wrestling mat. It's our secondary sport that my boys and I enjoy watching."
