RECENT HISTORY: The two schools, separated by just 13 miles across town, create one of the most intense and entertaining rivalries in small-college sports. Otterbein has won six of the last eight matchups and narrowly leads the all-time series with a mark of 46-45-3.

REED BETWEEN THE LINES: Senior Reed Tucker continues to be a bright spot for the Cardinal offense, most recently corraling eight balls for 121 yards and a touchdown vs. Heidelberg. He currently ranks fourth in the OAC for most receiving yards this season.

AID-IN THE EFFORT: Freshman punter Adyn Snyder had his best outing of the short season last week, averaging 41 yards across eight punts. He had a long of 51.

IT'S ABOUT TIME: Otterbein has not won the time-of-possession category in any of its three games so far this season, although two of those were within two minutes of one another. The Cards did win TOP last season against Capital.

COACH DOUP COMMENTS:

On the importance of beating Capital despite the odd/condensed season:

"I think it's huge for the mentality of our kids and the program. It's a rivalry game, so there is very much something to play for. This spring is a crazy situation and everyone probably feels beat up, but that is what it is. We better put our helmets on and get ready for a slugfest."

On Otterbein alum Brian Foos taking over the Capital program:

"They (Capital) are going to be fine moving forward with him. They are already physical, have good size and a core of returners. Brian is an OAC guy and already had a head coaching job (Madonna), but left before they played because of this pandemic. He understands what it takes to win in this conference and how to recruit."

On senior wide receiver Reed Tucker, who has 18 catches for almost 300 yards this spring:

"He is doing a very good job, catching everything and making plays when we need him. I'm sure Capital will focus on him, so we have to figure out ways to keep him effective. But I like the way he is making defenders miss early and finding separation."

On handling the in-game flow of what has typically become a wild 60 minutes against Capital:

"Good things are going to happen, and bad things are going to happen. You just have to keep believing, win your individual battles and stay focused. This game always has something wacky pop up. No matter what happens, my message is to put your head down and keep playing."
