CAPITAL UNIVERSITY COMETS

(5-9-2, 4-4-1 OAC)

VS.

OTTERBEIN UNIVERSITY CARDINALS

(11-2-3, 5-1-3 OAC)

MATCH PREVIEW:

- These two rivals square off for a second time this season, with much more on the line, as the six-team tournament officially gets underway. Tonight's other semifinal will feature Mount Union (5) at Wilmington (4). The winner of this entire bracket will earn the OAC's automatic bid to the upcoming NCAA Championships.
- Ohio Northern (1) and four-time defending champion John Carroll (2) earned byes into Thursday's semifinal. The Polar Bears will host the lowest remaining seed while the other winner advances up to JCU.
- Otterbein and Capital played to a 1-1 deadlock back on the first day of October, with the Comets scoring in the 19th minute (Zade Awad) before Will Isaac netted an equalizer just before intermission. Neither side was able to crack through in the second half despite the Cards seeing a few nice chances late.
- Isaac, a second team All-American, leads the OAC in scoring once again this year at 15 goals and 34 total points. Ten of those scores are in league play, including for multi-goal performances.
- As a team, Otterbein features 10 players that have scored multiple goals this fall. Senior Gabe Sharrock has six to his credit.
- Capital's Jack Francisco ranks eighth in the conference for most assists (8) while goalkeeper Connor Sexton is situated fourth with a solid .782 save percentage. Jack Kossoudji leads Capital with 22 points on the year as a whole.
- Otterbein, which fell to JCU in last year's championship match, finished that earlier meeting across town in Bexley with a 14-9 shot advantage. A total of 29 fouls were whistled in a
